Ready, ready

Lately I've been reeling of the way you got me feeling
I've been tired of this for way too long
You give me answers when I didn't ask You keep bringing up my past, always play the same old song

Tired of buying all your lies, acting like I am alright
So I hope you liked it last time 'cause that will be the final time
I wear my painted smile and sing along
Yesterday's where you belong

Ready, ready to put you behind me
Ready, ready to go
Ready, ready to show you the doorway
I think you need to know

That taking your time is out of the question
You're moving way too slow
I'll never stay down, I don't want you around
Ready, ready to go

Can I make it anymore clear, you're no longer welcome here
I guess you need to hear it again
I've got a brand new life, love is on my side
Game's over, you lose, I win

Yes, I'll tell you one more time, no see you later, it's goodbye
Hey, you need to pay attention
I don't know how you keep missin' everything I'm trying to say
Listen close, I'm moving on

Ready, ready to put you behind me
Ready, ready to go
Ready, ready to show you the doorway
I think you need to know

That taking your time is out of the question
You're moving way too slow
I'll never stay down, I don't want you around
Ready, ready to go

Ready, ready to put you behind me
Ready, ready to go
Ready, ready to show you the doorway
I think you need to know

That taking your time is out of the question
You're moving way too slow
I'll never stay down, I don't want you around
Ready, ready to go

I'll put this behind me, the way you define me
Love says I'm something more
I'm over the pain, I'm done with the shame
I found what I waited for

You left me with scars but He healed my heart
I found my place, secure in His arms
So I'll put this behind me, yeah, I'll put you behind
I'll put you behind me

Ready, ready to put you behind me
Ready, ready to go
Ready, ready to show you the doorway
I think you need to know

That taking your time is out of the question
You're moving way too slow
I'll never stay down, I don't want you around
Ready, ready to go

Ready, ready, ready
I'll never stay down, I don't want you around
Ready, ready to go

Yeah, I'll put this behind me
Yeah, I'll put this behind me
