I am wired
I am tired
Of being someone that I am not

Tired of showing
Tired of going
Along with all my lies

I wish that I was so strong
And I could tell you that
All this time I have been wrong

Been the wrongest girl in the world
Been the wrongest girl in the world

I have kept my face straight
And now it's too late
For bursting out into a song

I have been distant
Why would you listen
To someone who's been so far, for so long?

I wish I dared to touch your face
And tell you what is behind my smile
I have been wrong

Been the wrongest girl in the world
Been the wrongest girl in the world
