Say goodbye, lose your friends
Make them go, don't need them around
'Cause it's time, lose your friends
Make them go, was never supposed to be like this

They were too weak, too prone to break
Their needs too deep, their skin too thin
By now you took all there is to take
Tear it apart and start again

So go on
If this will make you happier
It got you this far
Do what you have to

You've wasted every moment
Of your Saturdays and your Sundays
You're wasted from the boredom
Was never supposed to be like this

Father said, "Just do what was done unto you, always"
In your father's steps just do what was done unto you
It won't be hard to start again

So go on
If this will make you happier
It got you this far
Do what you have to

And you're gone now
(Well, you've known this would come
(And you've left me alone)
Did it make you happier?
(And you're lost and you're gone)
(Don't take it so seriously)

Was it that hard?
(Go on and get going)
(I'm fine on my own)
Do what you have to
(It got me this far)
(Finally got it figured out)

One more inch, you son of a bitch
It'd been a waste of my time always
And now you're half awake, you'll bend 'til you break
And make the same mistakes always

So go on
If this'll make you happier
It got you this far
Do what you have to

And you're gone now
(Well, you've known this would come)
(And you've left me alone)
Did it make you happier?
(And you're lost and you're gone)
(Don't take it so seriously)

Was it that hard?
(Go on and get going)
(I'm fine on my own)
Do what you have to
(It got me this far)
(Finally got it figured out)
