The rains came down on this year's man I left my wallet at home again didn't have no change, didn't have no dollar bill all alone at the top of the hill murdered my brother, I betrayed my best friend I held my breath and I counted to ten let out the air and said "thou shalt not kill"

all alone at the top of the hill

the end of the world is coming soon put blood on my door so they'll pass my room I got a chain-link fence and a siren that goes off at will no cause for alarm at the top of the hill rabble rousers speak their minds why change the system when everything is fine but the tears from my eyes can't wash down this bitter pill something's gone wrong at the top of the hill
