"Soft & Slow"

Is it today I'm going crazy, come and help me lose my mind, who knows what we might find, maybe ourselves. There's a thin blue line in my head I know so well, it might be heaven, it might be hell. Oh well. Come and take me down to the blue below, feed me tea and kisses and wine, so soft and slow. So lazy, I was dreaming today, I was floating away, where? well I really can't say. So high, I saw your face in the sky, there were clouds in your eyes, well I nearly died.
Come and take me down to the blue below, feed me tea and kisses and wine, so soft and slow
