

Guy Chadwick "This Strength"

Visit "This Strength" on MotoLyrics.com

We could really go for so much more, there must be something still worth fighting for, might be nice to even break the law. We could really be the crudest pair, I wanna see you in a different light, I wanna have you when the sky is bright tonight. This strength will take us through the day, our world will turn and never change, this strength is you and me and more like lovers stranded on the shore. A little boy will stand before you now, a little child so deep inside your bones and you will say that he will always stay, always stay. This strength will take us through the day, our world will turn but never change, this strength is you and me and more, like lovers stranded on the shore. And when the night time closes in, we'll have our laughter and our dreams, we'll close our eyes and slip away.

Visit Guy Chadwick page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.