"Lock The Door"

Alone again.
You're breaking point is near.
Lay down your head on your pillow
Stain with tears from the past year.

Wouldn't you know it's because of him?
You can't let go.

It's a dead end.
You've done all that you can.
Given up your friends.
Your support left unmanned.
By His command.

I've only know you for a short time.
But, here's my advice.

Don't give him one more
Chance to come back home.
I know you see the truth
And you deserve so much more.
Lock the door, Say no more.
