Too soon the killing was over
The stench of death was all that remained
Death he commands in this poison land
Distributing pain
The choking sky, black buzzards fly
Scanning the dead for fresh meat
All I have to show for my woe is a fistful--a fistful of teeth

The roar of battle
Oh, how I cherish the sound
Of splintered shields and bursting bowels
As we trample the town
And then I saw you
You had tears in your eyes
And when we impaled your family I felt I should apologize
Soon we mated with fury
Our mutant baby had a worm for an arm
It's face was blistered and furry
But not without charm
But when one day my mood changed
And I melted your brain
A fistful of teeth is all that remains

I murdered you

And ate your soul
The bleakest black
The deepest hole

I scream out your name
Or at least what I think you were called Fate's finger gives me the blame
If you saw my tears I know you'd be appalled
A fistful of teeth
As I eat our baby I'm thinking of you
You are not here to feed me
So I ate our baby, I wish we'd had two
I tried to love you
But brought only pain
A fistful of teeth is all that remains

I tried to love you
I tried, I tried
A fistful of teeth
Did I mention that they were teeth from your vagina?
I tried to love you
But brought only pain
A fistful of teeth is all that remains
I enjoyed the pain
I murdered you
I ate your soul
But somehow I filled up your hole
