I can't imagine how hard it must be to be you
Adopting all your history, it's hard being me too
Are your secrets where you left them
'Cause now your ghosts are mine as well
I think it's time I met them and I think it's time you tell

And you should have told me when you met me
All these things I should know
I should have asked, we should have talked
About this so long ago

It's not fair, it's not fair, and don't leave me here
How's this happening to me, it feels so lonely here

We are in a mess, a danger zone
What will happen next, you never know
We are in a mess, a danger zone
What will happen next, you never know

Now we share the closet, now you've let me come inside
And now you're finally undressing, and I feel like I might die
The damage is infectious, the confession is too late
And how can I accept this, how is this happening to me

It's not fair, it's not fair, help me come up for air
How's this happening to me, it feels so lonely here

We are in a mess, a danger zone
What will happen next, you never know
We are in a mess, a danger zone
What will happen next, you never know
You never know
You never know

All of your secrets
All your lies
All of it

We are in a mess, a danger zone
What will happen next, you never know

We are in a mess, a danger zone
What will happen next, you never know

We are in a mess, a danger zone
What will happen next, you never know
We are in a mess, a danger zone
What will happen next, you never know
