Some situations need a little heart a tenderness that's hard to understand the falling in love for a start can easily turn to fall of a man you can't run and hide even if you want to things must be done that should be done you can't run and hide when love's got you tangled up on a tightrope your heart's on the run when love's on the phone you just have to answer there's no way you can hang up
when love's on the phone you just have to answer
well, are you ready to fall in love?
And everybody need a reason could be a dream of fire and ice and you and me, we need each other, need to be on each other's minds yes, some situations need a little heart to take to the sea with the sails unfurled the falling in love for a start can easily turn to fall of a girl
when love's on the phone you just have to answer
there's no way you can hang up
well, are you ready to fall in love?
When love's on the phone you just have to answer
there's no way you can hang up
well, are you ready to fall in love?
When love's on the phone you just have to answer
there's no way you can hang up
well, are you ready to fall in love?
