"Run For Your Love"

If you are feeling blue
You can close your troubled eyes for a while, I'll be there
When you don't know what to do
Let me show you how to live. Let it show that I care

Let me take you in my arms and give you all my love
Let me take you to my heart. never let go

So close but still far away
Awaits the day when you'll say
I well run, run, run for your love
Well here I am, just in case that you'd come running for me

Do you recall that song
The special melody, how it made us believe
Still I know it all by heart
Every letter, every words got a meaning to me

Let me take you in my arms and show you who I am
Let me be there by your side forevermore

So close but still far away

Awaits the day when you'll say
I well run, run, run for your love
Yeah here I am, just in case you'd change your mind
I well run, run, run for your love
Well here I am, just in case that you'd come running for
me

One day you will wake up to discover what I felt For you was true
You'll recall, see things clear if you'd open your troubled eyes again
I well run, run, run for my love

So close but still far away
Awaits the day when you'll say
I well run, run, run for your love
Yeah here I am, just in case you'd change your mind

I well run, run, run for your love
Well here I am, just in case you'd change your mind

Here I am, just in case that you'd come running for me
