You said you loved me
Then you didn't even care
You said you wanted me
Now you act like I'm not there
You said you needed me
But now I don't know what to think
You cared and I knew it wasn't real
But I still wanted you to feel
But now I think I'm too confused to know

(Chorus)

Too confused to feel the happiness of being in love
Too confused to feel the sadness of breaking up Too confused to feel the laughter that comes with loving again
I'm too confused to feel anything that has to do with love

You said you hated me
Then you said you want me back
You said you didn't need me
And then you stated as a fact

That no one cared for me
But then you said your world was black
Without me
You said no one could ever change what I meant to you
But now I'm too confused

(Chorus)

You took my heart on a roller coaster
Of ups and downs, twists and turns, and stops
But when you really want me back
I'm ready... I'll be ready To love again...

(Chorus 2x)

Too confused to feel the happiness of being in love
Too confused to feel the sadness of being dumped But not too confused to feel the laughter that comes with getting revenge

So now I'm not too confused
I can feel everything
That has to do with love
