Hey man, here's a little love song for all you bitches

I could not sleep last night
But thats not your problem
I've got my problems

I watched you sleep last night
But thats not your problem
I've got my problems

It's hard to understand
It gets so hard to be a man
I would give you anything
But I don't have anything
Just these crazy daydreams
And they are not worth anything

I got so high last night
But thats not your problem
I've got my problems

I tried to forget my life
But thats not your problem
I've got my problems

Its hard to understand
It gets so hard to be a man
I would give you anything
But I don't have anything
Just these crazy daydreams
And they are not worth anything

No
They are not worth anything
Take your time, take your time
It gets so hard to understand
It gets so hard to be a man

I would give you anything
But I don't have anything
Just these crazy daydreams
And they are not worth anything

Hey girl
I'm so glad that we could have this time together
Where I could let you know just exactly how I feel
You see, it's been hard to talk to you because You Never listen!
You're so selfish, you never shut up!

And you know I don't have any money
And I can barely pay my bills
But you don't care, You're so selfish
What do you want from me?!

Its hard to understand
It gets so hard to be a man
I would give you anything
Just these crazy daydreams
No
Why its so hard to be a man
I would give you anything
And they are not worth anything

I think we should destroy, the the bogus capitalist process that's destroying youth culture by mass marketing and commercials commercial uh paranoia behavior control and the first step to do it is to destroy the record companies, do you not agree?
