It was a cold night late in june
Drunk and I didn't know what to do
Till I ran into someone new to find it's you

You smiled at me and closed your eyes
You kissed away your summer lies
Embraced my worn out silhouette
And said: "You're mine"

I try to flee from what I need
You lost the way though you're top seated
I killed a dream sowed to the bottom of my mind

Oh, one day I'll find you
One day I'll make our dreams come true
One day I'll find a way to love you
Oh

You were the victim of all lies
I carried with me on my mind
A little girl just had to fade to find me trusting you

Now sunlight's there to wake the day, you can express I can't explain
May be the second that fate meant us to meet again

Your arms give me security, no scent of fatal ambiguity
I've never felt this way before on a sunny winterday

Oh, one day I'll find you
One day I'll make our dreams come true
One day I'll find a way to love you
Oh

One day
One day
One day

It was a cold night late in june
Drunk and I didn't know what to do
Till I ran into someone new to find it showed

Your arms give me security, no scent of fatal ambiguity
I've never felt this way before on a sunny winterday

Oh, one day I'll find you
One day I'll make our dreams come true
One day I'll find a way to love you
Oh
One day believe me
One day you'll make a blind man see
One day you'll find me saying I love you
Oh
One day
