Do you remember when we were afraid?
Crossing our fingers we'd turn out okay
No faith in the world 'cause we doubted ourselves
But in time came to find hard times made us strong

But now the fear in me is gone
I found the truth within, I'm strong
Only afraid of never knowing
All the things I could have done

Do you still feel all alone and betrayed?
Kicking yourself for mistakes that you made
Well, it's time to stand up and set yourself free
The future is waiting while you search for what went wrong

But now the fear in me is gone
I found the truth within, I'm strong
Only afraid of never knowing
All the things I could have done

I remember all the crazy shit we used to do
It seemed like you weren't afraid of anything
We were ready to take on the fucking world
Not worried about our future at all

You know what, fuck it, we did that shit 'cause we were afraid
'Cause we were afraid our time was running out
We did not think we had the same chances as the others had Well, guess what? We were fucking wrong

But now the fear in me is gone
I found the truth within, I'm strong
Only afraid of never knowing
All the things I could have done

And now the fear in me is gone
I found the truth within, I'm strong
Only afraid of never knowing
All the things I could have done
