Just when you thought you had it made
You had a life, your bills were paid
But your heart was numb inside
Abandoned by your foolish pride

And this I know
Nothing comes from shallow goals
I've tried and you will find
All your riches they come from inside

And here it comes this empty feeling again
I wanna help you out
I wanna make you understand what it's about
I'm not just here to be your fairweather friend
We'll see this to the end and get you on your feet again

Now that you've lost, you win so much
Now there's only you to trust
With your mind left open wide
First day of the rest of your life

So now you know
There's something that you can't control
It's okay, your war has died
But the battle still goes on outside

And here it comes this empty feeling again
I wanna help you out
I wanna make you understand what it's about
I'm not just here to be your fairweather friend
We'll see this to the end and get you on your feet again

Stand up
On your feet
Stand up

And here it comes this empty feeling again
I wanna help you out
I wanna make you understand what it's about
I'm not just here to be your fairweather friend
We'll see this to the end and get you on your feet again
