endless filth
covering every inch of poisoned earth no way to escape the endless bile piling up at the back of my throat no purity it's an illusion that never was their shit stained face leaves me quenching end wretched vile nothings are still more than me fuck life it is nothing no reason to strive for an existence I cant achieve no new thought just plagiarism of life everything of worth is forgotten tomorrow fuck everything that god calls life my life is shit that god will flush away when he finishes I affect nothing not even myself
