"Bitter World"

Struggling my past, pain in my expressions
Running on my last, avoid the deep depressions Beefing with the bottom I'm so afraid of fallin And all these fucking problems turning me into an alcoholic
Where did I go wrong, I swear this can't be life 17 and pregnant that just can't be right In love with a man who fucking your friend depends on what you like
This bitter earth
Ah, this world is crazy, hate on my babies, gotta receive the sight
Just ask the lord to give me the strength so they believe was right
And now smooth nigga who trying to get her home tonight
Infesting the gun and hope that the thug who come just ain't her type
It's a cold world, keep your sweater close Made it big but seems like family the ones who hate the most
That's the damn shame, how dare you doubt your blood
Don't know my real father, how come he drop my love
Why when I'm all alone, there's no one to hug
He left me all alone, how could you leave your cub
But fuck it I'm a man with or without your ass They ask about my pain, some things I wish that I had Just thank the man above, my mom's considered my dad
She working spending her last, whatever we wanted we had
The struggle created a man, no longer your job demands
No thoughts of contraband I've failed and let's replan I've been through hell and back, but still I'm here to stand
Mama need a house, so fuck it I bought some land Dying to be the greatest, but greater comes with patience

Got my business right, and plus my mama good Work my hardest just to say I made it out the hood
You fucking right, bitter world
Cried a hundred tears when I see my baby girls
When I see my baby girls, damn

Sweat and tears, this my testimony
Just know the world is yours, ain't that right, tony?
Gas prices high, niggas die young Bad role models, that's what that came from That's what that came from
This bitter world, my god
Well, well, my god, well,
This bitter earth, well
Dear world, dear world, I need you undivided And know some choices that we made were highly undecided
We keep it mind, we giving them signs, the time just disregard it
This bitter earth, well
Ah, some live in the blind afraid of the light,
But pain just can't be departed
The things that I seen I wish it was dreams it seems I'm sleeping hardly Lost a lot of homies endured a lot of pain Pray for better nights, slowly they became I hear my phone ring, fuck who calling me
I just hope that it's success who trying to bother peace
Fuck this bitter world, with no apologies Babies having babies, what could your father be Sick of being tired, and tired of being broke Mama worked too hard I pray of stroke Microphone and words, clearly show me hope Without it I'm alone, clearly you should know.
well, well, amen, well this bitter earth
