Strike with the strongest hand
Search from the sharpest eye
Pull from the greater
Side of your mind
Tear down the wall that's stuck
In between soul and mind
Watch as the worlds collide
And leave your shell behind

Just when ocean waves die upon the shore line
From which we stand
It's amazing how beginning comes from ending
Now that's too much to take...

Did the ripple breathe the breather or the breather breathe the ripple?
Madness starts from where this story ends
Nothing from the past ever
Happens quite the same
Induce only forward
And leave your shell behind

Just when ocean waves die upon the shore line
From which we stand
It's amazing how beginning comes from ending
Now that's too much to take... in

Won't you take this old shell and trade it for some understanding
You're bound to find out that
Infinite is one, just one thing

The ripple breathes,
The breather breathes.
