Well if you think about it
Then you're a fool, yeah
It's just the size of the mind that won't give you up
And if i think about it am I cool, yeah?
its just the word of the knife that won't cut you up
And if we think about it, is it true, yeah Cause there's no lie that reminds whether we are enough
So let's think about it are we through, yeah
It's just a crime at the time of the masculine love

Cause we're forced to love
Yeah we're forced to love
All the time
Forced to love

And when we speak about it
(and in, arrive, always on mind)
And if I speak about it
(the weeks, the lies, love is closing in)
So if you think about it, what would you do?
Its just the man with the plan saying we are not lost
So lets think about it, are we through yeah?
Its just the time to decide if we can move up, up, up, up

Cause we're forced to love,
Yeah we're forced to love
All the time
Forced to love, yeah we're forced to love
Yeah we're forced to love

Cause we're forced to love
Yeah we're forced to love
All the time
Forced to love

Well if you think about it, then you're a fool yeah
Cause you decide to believe in what we made up
And if i think about it, am I cool, yeah?
Cause there's no lie like the life that made us give up
