Then when you let it
You asked for nothing
Why don't you share it
All of the time you live
There's something out there

Just wanna know, how far to live on there's one more avenue in this town
And in the red room
At a distance

How would you know it
You're the same when you're living
I don't know it
It won't be this
Just wanna know, how far to live on
Just wanna know, how far to live on

All of the time you wait, there's someone out there
And no one can find all the red

How would you show it
You can see through the red
I don't know it
It won't be this time
