You see my mind is open wide it's the sound of my bleeding I'm needing.
and try to hold on to just one life I stand up on the wall I'm building.

Never see, never hear, never hope, never talk, never ever having a thing Never feel, never wil,I never cry, never die, I won't die missing you.
Never fear, never sleep, I pray some day I'm going to be someone
I'll keep on breathing.

Out of my mind I walk the line losing now I'm sinking to fast moving on just one more time I'm lost now I'm sinking again

You search for my conscience deep inside I feel my heart conceding. and now my eyes are open wide dove off the wall I was building

I'm the same as long as you feel me try hard not to kill me you want the things you wanted before me you want to steal the sun?
you want to feel my pain? you want to feel me breaking.
