"Long Day Comin'"

Close your eyes, youve got a long day comin
Your mama will be callin, that old rooster will crow
Close your eyes, youve got a long day comin
You should have been sleepin a long time ago
There are certain things in life
That do not go the way we plan them
There are mysteries to Love
Youre too young to understand them
These are not tears
Just smoke in my eyes
Smoke from the bridges
Im burning tonight
Close your eyes, youve got a long day comin
Your mama will be callin, that old rooster will crow
Close your eyes, youve got a long day comin
You should have been sleepin a long time ago
Guess it's time to say goodnight
Ive sung you every song I know
Let me stand and watch you dream
One more time before I go
Tomorrow you'll wake
And you'll wonder why
There's so many miles
Between you and I
Close your eyes, youve got a long day comin
Your mama will be callin, that old rooster will crow
Close your eyes, youve got a long day comin
You should have been sleepin a long time ago
Close your eyes, youve got a long day comin
You should have been sleepin a long time ago
