Driving through the wind and rain
I am so lost and lonely without you
How can I erase the pain
When I keep thinking only about you

One more town
Passing through one more day in search of you
Where on earth did you go?
I don't know
One more town
On my own one more night to sleep alone
And I still love you so

Looking for a small town
Cause I just need to wipe down and rest up
If you ask I couldn't tell
How we do that our love gets so messed up

One more town
Passing through one more day in search of you
Where on earth did you go?
I don't know
One more town
On my own one more night to sleep alone
And I still love you so

We can right where we went wrong
I just know it was crazy to break up
To each other we belong
Can't you see we are now meant to make up

The days are long
So very long
Seems like they will never end without your love
My heart won't mend, won't mend

Driving through the wind and rain
I am so lost and lonely without you
How can I erase the pain
When I keep thinking only about you

We can right where we went wrong

I just know it was crazy to break up
To each other we belong
Can't you see we are now meant to make up

One more town
Passing through one more day in search of you
(In search of you)
