I don't want to change
You used to think I was lame
But now you love me cause
I'm deep up in this music game

When she broke my heart
Yeah you broke my heart girl I said you broke my heart
Told me from the start
Yeah you told me from the start
Yeah you told me from the start
That's why we're apart
That's why we apart
And we'll never make it this far

I don't want to change
You used to think I was lame
But now you love me cause
I'm deep up in this music game

For the girls who tried to play me
It's Manic Matt and I'm just saying
If you think you're gonna get me better get to prayin'
I know you frontin'
You didn't like me when I was nothing
But now you love me cause this music game it made me something
So now I'm walking by
I see that I catch your eye
But back in the school called grade
Never gave me the time a day
Thought that you could play me like the game they call
Nintendo
But don't pre-tendo that I'm like a patient that they call mental

I don't want to change
You used to think I was lame
But now you love me cause
I'm deep up in this music game
I don't want to change
Love me in this game

Yeah back then you hated them
And said they were irrelevant
My CD's weren't selling then
So why did you keep telling them
Said all I did was day dream
Seems a little extreme
Now you're selling ice cream
And I'm on the music scene
Blowin' up my side kick
Say you want to be my chick
Girl you like my music
Girl you straight clueless
Girl you're clueless
Yeah girl you're straight clueless

I don't want to change
You used to think I was lame
But now you love me cause
I'm deep up in this music game
I don't want to change
Love me in this game
