And so it ends,
its just like in the movies, in disappearing light,
she cries out to the sky, her eyes aglow with reflection, this will mean i only have to lie to you this one last time,

I cant believe it took so long, to find someone to believe in,
every hour of every day, just to keep us hanging on,

I cant stand around while were falling to pieces

Am i gonna have to spend my whole life waiting, hands in the air just anticipating, you keep things falling apart as the moment passes by,
am i gonna have to spend my last redemption, ten pounds of pain for an ounce of prevention,

Youve got your reasons, they come with consequences,
those bitter colors,
it still hurts to remind us,

Youve got your reasons,
they come with consequences,
those bitter colors,
it still hurts to remind us,

Youve got your reasons,
they come with consequences,
those bitter colors,
it still hurts to remind us, (she keeps me hanging on)

Youve got your reasons,
they come with consequences,
those bitter colors,

it still hurts to remind (she keeps me hanging on)

cant stand around while were falling to pieces

Am i gonna have to spend my whole life waiting,
hands in the air just anticipating,
you keep things falling apart as the moment passes by,
am i gonna have to spend my last redemption,
ten pounds of pain for an ounce of prevention,

And the moment passes by
