cornered with my back against the wall
the lights are dimming by the minute can someone call my other self let them know ill be just fine

start back at start so i know where to go weve made it this far no turning back now six days and all i can think about six days and all i can think about is you

can it be were on top of the world from now on i can see from a distance i can see the end
can it be were on top of the world the stranger feeling crawling up my arm into my heart

yea its over now
from my head down to my legs from my head down to my and now its over now

can someone call my other self
let them know ill be just fine
cornered with my back against the wall
let them know ill be just fine
cornered with my back against the wall
can someone call my other self
