sometimes things bounce off me sometimes they cut right through sometimes i get caught up in them i'm caught up in you i can be steel if that's what you need i can be a screen door but if you want more i'm sorry i gave everything sometimes i get lazy sometimes i think it's o.k. my future looks hazy i'm taking it day by day don't it make time fly when you turn your head when you blink your eyes and baby ain't it strange the way fate can twist with a single change
