"Too Long Running"

i'm not the hang around kind i got a fugitive mind can't wrap me up in no chains been nice to know you is my middle name i'm insatiable as a shark been known to prowl in the dark but i've been changing my ways you make it easy for me to stay i'm too long running i've been too long running too long running i just hope i'm not too far gone i live by a code of my own

sometimes i bitch and i moan i've got a right to complain the world gets crazy when you're insane i can turn my back on your shot you don't know how lucky you got that i've been changing my ways a year ago i'd have blown you

away
