I've broken every bone for you,
Burned myself alive for you,
Fell down from the sky for you,
But you're not the one for me.
I dug myself a grave for you
Shot life in the heart for you,
I lust for every part of you
But you're not the one for me.
Cos in the cold light of day
The colours all fade away,
And were left with monotony
And nothing to say.
In the cold light of day
The colours all fade away,
And were left with monotony
And nothing to say.
I lost myself in a dream of you,
My pulse raced to the stars for you,
In love with every part of you
But you're not the one for me.
I always looked out for you,
Wanted life to be fun for you,
You said i was the one for you
But you're not the one for me.
Cos in the cold light of day
The colours all fade away,
And were left with monotony
And nothing to say.
In the cold light of day
The colours all fade away,
And were left with monotony
And nothing to say.
