i dreamed i drove a thousand miles to see you you stared in my eyes i saw the lies still inside why? why?

i've gone on without you just fine i'd rather be alone than sip your poison the solitude comforts me your words won't fix the damage you left behind a broken heart, a broken dream there's not much you can do but i'm fine i'm just fine the girl

you knew
she's fine
she's just fine

this hearts' in heaven with the one who can love i'm fine, i'm just fine
