i call you up but you're not home so i drive by and spy on you your car is there and the lights are on where are you, my mr. right?

i know you're got a lot of fans but if you just give me a chance you'd realize i'm not that weird i just get excited when you're near

give me just one good reason why you're avoiding me right now?
don't you know i'm perfect too, i'm everything you need give me just one reason why you're avoiding me right now?

don't you know i'm perfect too, i'm love sick over you i follow you and i hide in the shadows when i see you with another girl

don't you see you're going to be unhappy until you fall in love with me?

i drop the hints and i drop the ball why won't you just turn and look my way?
i'd give up everything i have just to take a stroll with you
