

The Bronx

"Valley Heat"

Visit "Valley Heat" on MotoLyrics.com

I float like a fish in the railway ditch
And nobody wonders why
We're crashing our cars into the hottest bars,
Knowing the dead don't die
What can we do to get attention please?
Tell us, we are on our knees
What can we do to get into approved,
How do we feel complete
Before we are obsolete?

People pay no mind, they don't really care
They just keep moving on, they don't stop to stare
It's like we're not even there
We're not even there

I cut off the head and watch the body dance
And nobody shares a glance
Robbing the banks to fill in the blanks
But not in the jar for free
Looking for charity

People pay no mind, they don't really care
They just keep moving on, they don't stop to stare
We ask ourselves, are we something you'd follow?
Are we too full of ourselves or too hollow?
Oh no

Your now or never world
Your all or nothing mind
Would rather fake a smile
Then get left behind

Why aren't we something you'd follow?
Are we too full of ourselves or too hollow?

People pay no mind, they don't really care
They just keep moving on, they don't stop to stare
It's like we're not even there
We're not even there

