"Threshold"

There are clouds on the horizon
Shifting colours, heavy rain
High above the roaring thunder
Shooting bullets through your brain

There's something wicked left behind
A baleful sight, a coming
A sinister state of your minds

Behold the skies, the port of heaven
Take the stairway down to hell
The gate is open, live the curse
We set aside our dreams and visions
We are one, we will unite
At the Threshold of the universe
We will rise

Late at night they heard the sirens
From a place so far away
Allied forces, mighty brethren

In a vesture of decay

They are legions of the night
Turning darkness into....
Turning the dark into light

Behold the skies, the port of heaven
Take the stairway down to hell
The gate is open, live the curse
We set aside our dreams and visions
We are one, we will unite
At the Threshold of the universe

[Solo: stefan]

Beshold the skies the port of heaven....
