Been alone so long that I've forgotten what it's like to feel somebody next to me and hear her breathing peacefully when I wake up at night.

Been alone so long
that I've forgotten what to say-- if I meet somebody who might easily resemble you I smile, but look away...

I look away.

Been alone so long
that I've forgotten what to do: how to make the whole thing right and how to help if she's uptight and when to run and when to fight...

how to make her stay the night-- that's if I ever knew.

Been alone so long

and hear her breathing peacefully

wake up at night
