I've been trying to read your mind
But I always end up puzzled and surprised
I see myself like I am blind
But you hold my hand and you lead me
Coz I know I don't need to worry
I just let you be my guide

Coz I just see a silver lining
A glimpse of your promise to me
But it's not about what it is
Or how or if but it's knowing the one who made it

I'd like to know what's in store
Yeah it's big but I know for sure
That what I really need is you within my soul
Sometimes I put you in a box
And I forget that you are God
But what really matters to you
Is my heart

Coz I just see a silver lining
A glimpse of your promise to me
But it's not about what it is
Or how or if but it's knowing the one who made it

It's not the promise
But the one who made it
It's you who made it happen
Coz you love me
