We drive tonight along that endless road
Got no answers left to give
The silence's broken by the radio
I make a first stop but the World keeps turning
With your secrets to unveil
You fire up in my direction
We'll survive inspite of all that lover's rage
I know we're bound to go the wrong way
But all the things we'll find we'll share along the way
And if you cry... I will cry too
We drive tonight along that endless road
And get lost along the way
Your gentle whisper in my ear
It's so close to being everything you need
I know we're bound to go the wrong way
But all the things we'll find we'll share along the way
And if you cry... I will cry too
Almost leaving
Can't decide what's right or wrong
Almost leaving
Signs are fading here
We're melting down with the lights
I'm so high on you
We're so close to being
Everything
