It happened without warning
It came so fast
Unanswered questions hanging
Over my head

Facing changes, on my own
Never helping, I'm falling back in the hole
Facing changes, not my own
Unexpected, I think I'm losing control

Time only can do so much
Time's not enough
I'm searching and not finding
What's to become

Facing changes, on my own
Never helping, I'm falling back in the hole
Facing changes, not my own
Unexpected, I think I'm losing control

It's not so easy
To put the past behind me
You can't just live and forget
All that you ever have known

Things seemed so certain
And now I'm learning
Our hope can't be placed in
These things that don't come from above

Facing changes, on my own
Never helping, I'm falling back in the hole
Facing changes, not my own
Unexpected, I think I'm losing control

It happened without warning
It came so fast
