I'll win no special honors I'll receive no world acclaim
And I'll never have a title for my name Oh I should I win a purple heart for a coming back to you
I've only done what any fool would do

I'll never me a hero no legend in my time
No medals for this broken heart of mine
There'll be no a regnotation for all I've gone through
I've only done what any fool would do

I've only done what any fool would do
I believed this time you've changed and won't be true
But you're gone again and yet I keep on loving you
But I've only done what any fool would do
