He will never love you more than I do, darling
He will never need you more than I do. darling
But as long as fate decrease that we must part
Go with my blessings darling go with my heart.

Your happiness means all the world to me
And if you love him so
And you wanna go
My love I'll set you free.

But he will never love you more than I do darling
He will never need you more than I do darling
Now that you have torn my only world apart
Go with my blessings darling go with my heart.

--- Instrumental ---

He will never love you more than I do darling
He will never need you more than I do darling
Now that you have torn my only world apart
Go with my blessings darling go with my heart.

Go with my blessings darling go with my heart...
