Though I should say goodbye to you I can't control my heart

It won't obey my heart must stay with you

You brought me a tear with each kiss you gave to me

You taught me how painful love can be

It makes no difference what you do I can't control my heart

And though you stray my heart must stay with you

But you alone it's beating I love you it's repeating

With all my soul I can't control my heart

[fiddle + guitar]

You brought me a tear with each kiss you gave to me

You taught me how painful love can be

It makes no difference what you do I can't control my heart

And though you stray my heart must stay with you

For you alone it's beating I love you it's repeating

With all my soul I can't control my heart
