

Hank Snow

"The Anniversary Of My Broken Heart"

Visit "The Anniversary Of My Broken Heart" on MotoLyrics.com

Words & Music by Hank Snow

Darlin' I am, oh so blue, found the things that I gave you.
You returned them when you said that we must part.
I have kept them through the years, they are treasured
souvenirs,
And mark an anniversary of my broken heart.

Just a rose from your hair, long ago I placed it there.
Tho' it's faded and the petals fall apart.
And the fragrance went away, but it's just as sweet
today,
It marks an anniversary of my broken heart.

A golden ring to me so dear, old love letters stained with tears,
Had I only known the future from the start,
Then there'd be no soul to pine for the love that I
thought mine,

Or no anniversary of my broken heart.

Tho' I know it's all in vain, ev'ry treasure will remain
Even tho' the past has torn my world apart.
I kissed your picture, then I cried, for these mem'ries,
deep inside
Mark an anniversary of my broken heart.

Visit Hank Snow page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.