(Ray Griff)

The seasons come and go but in my heart I know Weather it's rain or snow our dreams hold back
The seasons drift on by like clouds across the sky
But we both realize that shadows pass.

I would never change or try to rearrange a thing about
you dear
I'll love you just the way you are through all the coming years
The seasons play their part and each one leaves its mark
But I know in my heart our love will last.

you dear
I'll love you just the way you are through all the coming
The seasons play their part and each one leaves its
mark
But I know in my heart our love will last...
