I'm so lonely since you said goodbye
There's no stars left to shine up above
And my heart aches with pain though it's aching in vain
For the sun has gone down on our love

Now it seems there is nothing left for me
But a dream of a broken memory
So I guess it is through for me and for you
For the sun has gone down on our love

After all I will try to forget
I'll pretend that I have no regret
Though so hard I have tried but the tears I can't hide
For the sun has gone down on our love

Yes, the sun has gone down on our love
And my heart aches with pain though it's aching in vain
For the sun has gone down on our love
THE SUN HAS GONE DOWN ON OUR LOVE

I'm so lonely since you said goodbye
And my heart aches with pain though it's aching in vain
For the sun has gone down on our love

Now it seems there is nothing left for me
But a dream of a broken memory
So I guess it is through for me and for you
For the sun has gone down on our love

After all I will try to forget
I'll pretend that I have no regret
Though so hard I have tried but the tears I can't hide
For the sun has gone down on our love

Yes, the sun has gone down on our love
And my heart aches with pain though it's aching in vain
For the sun has gone down on our love
