You taught me how to love you, you taught me how to kiss
You taught me to believe in you and made my life like this I've learned about a broken heart and how a love can die
There's only one more lesson, just teach me how to lie

Chorus:

Teach me how to lie about the places I have been Tell me how to break your heart then win your love again
Show me how to sneak around with someone on the sly I'd like it from an expert, just teach me how to lie

You taught me little tender words and how they all should sound
You showed me just how dreams are built and how they tumble down
I've walked with you through loneliness and now know how to cry
There's only one more lesson, just teach me how to lie

Repeat chorus
