

Hank Williams III

"Legend Of D. Ray White"

Visit "Legend Of D. Ray White" on MotoLyrics.com

Way down in West Virginia,
There are some people who are one of a kind.
They don't need nothin' from nobody,
'Cause they're already doin' fine.
You got Hasil Adkins hunchin',
An' Mamie's raisin' hell.
The legend of D Ray White,
Will never die like a rebel yell.

An' ol' Jesco's dancin' in his Daddy's shoes.
Yeah, ol' Hasil's still hunchin' out them
Boone county blues.
(Boone county blues.)
An' ol' Mamie, you know she's done some time in jail.
The legend of D Ray White will never die like a rebel yell.

-Instrumental break-

Birdie May White, she's the strongest woman,
That I've ever met in my life.
She raised over twenty-four of her own,
An' had to watch her husband die.
She's always fightin' hard,
An' livin' off the land.
When she's done livin' in this world,
You know, the Lord's gonna take her by her hand.

An' ol' Jesco's dancin' in his Daddy's shoes.
Yeah, ol' Hasil's still hunchin' out them
Boone county blues.
(Boone county blues.)
An' ol' Mamie, you know she's still raisin' hell.
The legend of D Ray White will never die like a rebel
yell.
Yeah, the legend of D Ray White will never die like a rebel yell.

Visit Hank Williams III page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

