My blood pressure worked no normal
My temperature started to rise
A cold chill's a comin' all over
And tears are fillin' my eyes

Guess what, that's right she's gone

The days will turn into weeks
The weeks will turn into years
And I'm turnin' into a block of stone
I can't see for my tears

Guess what, that's right she's gone
The train left town this morning
Guess who waved goodbye

A cute little trig in a bridal red dress
And a man with a little bow tie
My mind is spinnin' in circles
I'm about to go insane

Like a fool
I'm a runnin' down the railroad track
I'm tryin' to stop that train

Guess what, that's right she's gone
The train left town this morning
Guess who waved goodbye

Guess what, you're right she's gone
Guess what, that's right she's gone
