Days seem to pass by
And time just another dirty trick
And love never seems to get it right
And my heart is always ready to quit

And I get so hard
I get so hard
On myself

Life another word for the waiting game
And I stand by the phone
And every conversation is all the same
I'm just a sucker waiting for your call

But I get so hard
I get so hard
On myself

Ya I get so hard
I get so hard
On myself

I fear my agelessness
I lose sleep over it
I fear my ignorance
Sleep helps me forget
Constantly contemplating but I never do a thing about it Constantly thinking of ways to change but I never get around to it

Everything I do
Everything I do

Ya I get so hard
I get so hard on myself

I get so hard
I get so Hard
On myself
