i don't know why
don't know why that i torture myself overact and draw conclusions of truth sometimes i hate myself for wanting you but then you only have to say you love me
to make it worth it
and i'm flying flying

so many times i try to find a way that i will never be denied
to your world
i put aside my pride
cross the great divide
i wanna stay inside
in your world

to make it worth it
and i'm flying flying
to make it worth it
and i'm flying flying

(bridge)
love me

so many times you say there's gonna come a day your heart will always stay by my side
why do i act so foolishly

need you to notice me why can't i love you patiently

i don't know why don't know why that i torture myself
