"The devil in you"

How does it feel to have me inside your head?
Double your trouble, keep you up all night in bed
You wanna stay inside this tune,
forever begging more

Look at the devil in you, and all those things you do
I stay a minute or two, and then you come back to me
Look at the devil in you, and all those things you do
I know you blame me too, and still you run back to me
Forever, forever begging more

A little finger, take the whole hand
Reality disappears like the grains of sand
I give you dreams instead, but you ain't seen nothing yet
Nothing yet come true, still you come back to me

Look at the devil in you, and all those things you do
Look at the devil in you, and all those things you do
I know you blame me too, and still you run back to me
Forever, forever begging more
Forever, forever wanting more

(You give a minute, i'll take a year)

You think on time, you can depend
Pray to the angels, but the devil's your best friend
You wanna stay inside this tune
Forever begging more

Look at the devil in you, and all those things you do
Look at the devil in you, and all those things you do
I know you blame me too, and still you run back to me
Forever, forever begging more
Forever, forever wanting more
Forever, forever needing more
Forever more...
